A. Drayton Boylston is one of the leading Executive Coaches in the industry. His career in corporate America includes experience as one of the youngest executive officers of a Fortune 100 company and president of one of the oldest financial services companies in the country.

Drayton has forged multi-million dollar joint ventures with leading Wall Street investment firms and successfully led two large national sales forces. He also helped create and run a $100 million startup company.

During his meteoric rise to the "big chair" in the corporate boardroom, Drayton experienced a near death experience that changed his life forever. With a clear vision and a fresh perspective he rescued himself from the life he created. The author of Coming Unscrooged: A Contemporary Classic of Corporate Rescue and Redemption, Drayton Boylston is now dedicated and determined to help rescue countless executives from the lives they have created.

Keynote and Seminar Topics

Values based leadership topics, life balance, stress, and world class selling are some of the topics Drayton speaks on. Following are some of the specific speeches that cover these topics:

- Save Yourself From the Life You've Created!
- It's Not About Perfection!
- Using Values to Increase Corporate Value
- The Value of Values
- Selling With Integrity
- Coaching Executives for Maximum Performance (while leading a balanced life)
- Maximizing Your Human Capital
- It's a Crisis!

Why hire Drayton?

He's witty, provocative and caring. His goal is to inspire people to take positive action and change the fabric of society in a positive fashion.

He is focused on return on investment for organizations and will gauge his success based upon exceeding your expectations.

Everything that he does is mission based. It's not about his ego; it's about achieving your goals.

Move over The Paradox of Success and Synchronicity for a third volume in the slow growth and precious repertoire of alpha-male recovery literature. On that next flight from here to there, take along Coming Unscrooged and ponder your own deepest questions about just what you're up to with your family, your job, your company and our world."
